Farm Family Receive Recognition . . .

A diversified cattle and hog ranching enterprise has won a Master Farm Family award for the A. M. Robertson family of Carstairs. There is one other 1959 winner — the George Cowling family of High River.

The Master Farm Family program once again followed the theme of "Good Farming — Right Living — Clear Thinking." Since inception of the awards eleven years ago, 39 Alberta farm families have previously been honored.

The main objective of the program is to provide Alberta residents with a practical demonstration showing how a family can achieve success in farming, and in community and home life. Winners receive a $1000 cash award, and an engraved plaque.

Mr. Robertson was born in Carstairs in 1905 and attended a district public school and the Didsbury High School. He farmed with his father, one of Alberta's original purebred Hereford breeders, until his marriage to a life-long friend and school mate in 1927. The newbyeds started off on a half-section of raw land. The holdings of the Master Farm Family now total more than two sections of land. Another quarter-section is leased.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson have two children, Donald, a graduate of the University of Alberta, Faculty of Agriculture, and Gordon, who has taken the farm mechanics course at the Calgary Institute of Technology and Art. Donald, married with two children, farms with his father while Gordon, also married, farms on his own a short distance away.

The Robertson family have taken an active interest in community affairs and have held many executive positions in numerous organizations. Mr. Robertson has been a hospital board director, school board secretary, municipal councillor, director of the local rural electrification association, member of the Carstairs Chamber of Commerce, until his marriage to a life-long friend intendant and director of the church board, director of the 4-H Club movement, and the Carstairs choral society.

Mrs. Robertson taught school prior to her marriage in Didsbury. She has worked on the Scout group committee at Westcott, and has served in the Sunday School and on the sessions of the Westcott United Church. She is a charter member of the Westcott W.A. and also a charter member of the Westcott W.I. and now holds the office of Constituency Convener for the Didsbury district. Mrs. Robertson is also a member of Moss Chapter of T.O.E.

Sons Donald and Gordon have been active in the Scouting and 4-H movements, in school organizations, church and choral society.

Two attractive homes grace the Robertson farmstead. A three-year old modern bungalow is used by the senior Robertsons while the older family home now houses Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robertson and their two children.

More Pictures Of Master Farm Family . . .

The Robertsons have about 650 acres of their holdings under cultivation. They have 400 acres seeded to Rodney oats and Vantage barley, 125 acres are in hay and 125 acres in summerfallow. A nine year rotation program is followed. Two years of grain are followed by a year of green manure fallow, three years of grain and three years of forage.

All grain grown by the Master Farm Family is used for feeding a herd of purebred Herefords, and hogs. No grain has been grown for sale for 30 years.

The Robertson's beef herd is centred around the nucleus of 50 purebred cows and two bulls. The breeding program calls for early calving with the calves carried over for one winter. Feeders are also bought in the fall and marketed the following December or January at a weight of approximately 1050 pounds.

An attempt is made to have cattle in the feed lot at all times. They are marketed at the Calgary stockyards.

A rapid expanding hog enterprise has been developed by the Master Farmers during the past few years under the guidance of the eldest son, Donald. The hogs are a cross between Yorkshire sows and a Lacombe boar.

Twenty sows are kept on the main farm with 30 more located on the farm of the youngest son, Gordon. All weanling pigs are fed and marketed from the main farm.

In addition to their own stock the Robertsons purchase weanling pigs to make up a total annual market of approximately 600 hogs. These are shipped weekly at an average weight of 200 pounds. Two dairy cows, 100 New Hampshire-Light Sussex hens and a few turkeys are kept on the farm for home use.

A full-line of modern equipment eases the work load on the farm. There are two tractors, one diesel, one gas, plough, tiller, cultivator, disc harrow, cable welder, flex harrow, packer, swather, combine, hoist truck, straw buncher and auger, press drill with fertilizer attachment and cyclone grass seeder, mower, rake, baler, bale loader, farm hand, various size wagons, manure spreader, grinder, a ham-mill, pump, welder, sprayer, fanning mill and set of scales.

FALL TILLAGE PROFITABLE

Years of studying different tillage practices on Experimental Farms and Illustration Stations of the Canada Department of Agriculture in the Prairie Provinces have shown that crop production can be increased through the use of fall tillage practices.

Increased Yields. The results of experiments made at the Experimental Farm, Brandon, Manitoba, with fall tillage practices on stubble containing combine straw, show that fall tillage increased yields appreciably.
The three-year average yields in a fallow, wheat, wheat rotation were as follows: Fall tillage — 23.6
bushels per acre; no fall tillage — 18.5 bushels per acre. Little difference was found in the effectiveness of fall tillage when the following implements were compared — the moldboard plow, the one-way disc, and the heavy duty cultivator with wide shovels.

Other Benefits. The Manitoba experiments showed that, preceding the fallow year, after harvest tillage with a heavy duty cultivator equipped with shovels, or with a one-way, is an effective way of controlling weeds, particularly perennials. Fall tillage also reduced the total number of cultivations needed in the fallow year, thereby helping to maintain a more effective trash cover and reducing the possibility of soil erosion by wind and water.

On Thistle Control. Infestations of Canada Thistle and Perennial Sow Thistle in cropped fields can be reduced by spraying with 2,4-D Ester at the rate of 3 1/2 to 1 pound per acre as soon as the crop is removed. For best results, however, this operation should be followed,
two or three weeks later, by cultivation of the field. The following year a grain crop should be sprayed, when in the 3- to 4-leaf stage, at the rate of 9 ounces of 2,4-D Ester per acre. This method, which combines fall cultivation and the use of chemicals, is an effective, practical means of eradicating field-weed thistle infestations.

For the second year in a row a district family has won one of the "Master Farm Family" awards, presented each year by the provincial government. The A. M. ## Something New !!! Wish We Were There . . .

Winnipeg Crap Shooters Please Ignore . . . Editors often get to thinking that there must be easier ways to make a living so it is comforting to know that other professions have their problems too. Winnipeg gamblers, for example, are being hounded by law enforcement officers in a crackdown that has put most of the easy-money boys right out of work.

We have been wondering — and a bit fearful — about their rights to collect unemployment insurance. They may have read — we hope they didn't — where a similar crackdown on the gamblers in New Orleans brought a flood of requests from applicants who filed for unemployment insurance on the grounds that they could no longer earn their living at gambling in that city. Did they collect?

The answer is yes. They did, for under Louisiana law, even out-of-work gamblers can draw as much as $35 a week for 28 weeks!

NOTES FROM

The District
Agriculturist
HOWARD FULTON

Dairymen in Alberta lose $2,000-000 a year with mastitis. It is caused by various bacteria or germ entering the udder through the external opening in the teat, there are two types chronic and acute. Carelessness is a big factor in mastitis losses. Exposure to cold draughts and cold floors in many cases being the main factor. Bruises caused by rough or broken stalls and gutter edges may cause the start of mastitis.

The disease may be spread by unsanitary milking procedures to the whole herd from one cow. There are drugs available for the treatment of this disease but in many cases, only limited success is recognized with their use. When the infection is the chronic form, permanent injury to the udder usually results.

Prevention is the best program, and this is just good sound management practices. Prevention factors are to eliminate machinery, wire, etc. in the yards which might cause teat injury, bars and stall constructed to prevent next cows stepping on teats of cows lying down also eliminate any rough broken gutter edges. Ensure plenty of bedding to prevent floor injury and coldness, draughts especially near doors should be avoided.

The milking should be carried out in a careful manner, milking machines can injure udders. A good milking procedure would be, wipe udders with cloth rinsed in disinfectant, disinfect teat cups on machines, and do a good job in cleaning equipment after milking. If you have a cow with mastitis milk her last to prevent carrying germs to uninfected cows. A strip cup should be used whenever mastitis is suspected, you can then easily detect the flakes or clots associated with the disease.

Good care and prompt treatment will usually cause complete recovery from acute mastitis but prevention is far better.

A GEM OF THOUGHT

When you approach a problem, strip yourself of preconceived opinions and prejudices, assemble and learn the facts of the situation, make the decision which seems to you to be the most honest, and then stick to it.

THE BEGGARS STAY HUNGRY . . .

Last week's federal - provincial conference in Ottawa was doomed to failure before it opened.

The provinces went there hoping to get at least a down-payment on Mr. Diefenbaker's election promises to them, promises not only of a much more generous tax rental arrangement but of treating them as equals, not as beggars.

But the federal government has no money with which to redeem those promises. That hasn't deterred it appreciably in the past, expenditures in the first year of the Diefenbaker administration amounting to a full billion dollars more than receipts and the deficit being one of the chief causes both of a further erosion of the dollar value and of the current tight-money situation. Now, however, the government is finally awakening to the danger of such a course, and it is showing a belated interest in government economies. Thus, Mr. Fleming's blunt "no" to the requests of all the provinces for more consideration.

Two observations might be made. Conservative provincial governments were just as disappointed as those of other stripes. There was unanimous feeling that this was hardly in keeping with the promise of money, hardly treatment, befitting equals.

Secondly, the provinces are at least as careful in their spending as Ottawa is, and transfer of any funds from federal to provincial hands is not an expenditure, inflationary or otherwise. Similarly the country is no farther ahead in its drive for fiscal stability if Mr. Diefenbaker spends for unnecessary purposes sums equal to what the provinces wanted and were refused.

"YOUR BLOOD MAY SAVE A LIFE"

"...devotion to detail"

The demand for Volkswagens grows constantly. It has kept well ahead of expanding production. Today, Volkswagen is more than a car. It is a household word, a standard for what is good honest value. And that is because you, everyone, can actually "see" the quality in a Volkswagen. It is there in every detail, every part. You don't have to be an engineer to appreciate the way the doors are made. Open them. Close them. They shut solidly with the sound of authority. The hood is the same — no gaping spaces where it meets the body. This is what experts examine with pleasure — find technically excellent.

Such devotion to detail you find in every single part. This makes Volkswagen what it is. And it was Volkswagen who pioneered in mass-production such outstanding features as engine in the rear, air cooling, torsion-bar suspension on all four wheels—all sound engineering principles which other manufacturers are now adopting.

While Volkswagen is continually improving, the same basic design has been maintained. That is why the 100,000 Volkswagen owners in Canada enjoy such a high resale value for their cars.

And everywhere you go, you will find efficient Volkswagen service. From coast to coast, 280 authorized Volkswagen service centres are equipped with genuine parts. Factory-trained mechanics give you efficient, inexpensive service. All this is backed by a central 5-million dollar Spare Parts Depot at Toronto.

The car, the parts, the service—devotion to detail in every way.

Do You Plan Your Wardrobe?

Are you one of the many who's famous words are "I Haven't A Thing To Wear!" when a special occasion arises. Do you buy or sew clothes because you just happen to like the color of the material or style of the dress and not because you really need the garment in your wardrobe? Then, you can guard against disappointment and waste if you think through all the steps to a planned wardrobe before making or buying a single item. The three main rules to be well dressed are: 1. Build your wardrobe around YOU. 2. Keep it co-ordinated and uncluttered. 3. Make a plan and stick to it.

Steps To A Planned Wardrobe
1. List garments on hand and wearable. Go through your clothes closet and chests of drawers. List only those articles of clothing that are active in your wardrobe, that you have worn sometime during the last two years. Remove the ones you haven't worn until you figure out their best use.

2. Plan to meet your activity needs.
List the garments you need and want to add to your wardrobe plus the date you plan on obtaining them. In choosing them consider: the things you do during the year, where you go and the people who will see you, your hobbies and social activities, the weather, your clothing needs.

3. Know becoming lines in fashion for you.
This step requires skill and study for it is sometimes difficult to analyze yourself.

4. Select Colors To Flatter You
Use special restraint with colors but never look drab or monotonous. A good wardrobe may be built around a single, basic color, with accents, or a combination of coordinate colors that go together. Any basic color, black, brown, blue, gray or beige is good foundation for building.

In choosing colors remember colors should — 1. Become your complexion and personality. 2. Harmonize with each other. 3. Never be in a crowd. Two is company.

5. Repair — Restore and Discard
Remember the print dress you always liked? It's worn under the arm and too long for today's styles. Make it into a gay blouse for your basic suit. Or, look at that skirt you haven't worn for ages. It will make a jacket for one of the young fry. Don't waste a piece of good fabric. If you can't use it in the family, give it to someone who needs or take it to the thrift shop.

6. Plan Your Share Of Money
First, plan how much of the family income can be used for family clothing, then figure how much of that amount is your share. A wise buyer who knows how to sew can stretch a few dollars a surprising amount. Try a three year plan — This avoids putting a pinch on your purse for everything at once.

WINNERS OF ANNUAL BUSARIES ANNOUNCED

Winners of the J. L. Owens busaries for 1959 are Mr. John D. Loewen of Swatwell and Miss Gessina Walker of Madden. Both Mr. Loewen and Miss Walker are registered in the faculty of Education of the University of Alberta in Calgary.

The J. L. Owens busaries, in aid of teacher recruitment, are granted to students registering in the Faculty of Education who secured highest and second highest in the recent departmental examinations and who are resident in the provincial constituency of Didsbury. The busaries are of $75 and $50 and will be presented formally at functions being arranged for the near future. This is the second year they have been awarded.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

How spiritual understanding of God, good, brings unlimited strength and progress will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death" is the Golden Text from Psalms (37): "Depart from evil, and do good; and dwell for evermore."

The opening selection to be read from "Science and Health" with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (215:12): "What ever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life." From Proverbs the following verse will be read (4:23,26): "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life. . . Ponder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established."

When you're ready to buy, ask yourself these questions: 1. What is it made of? 2. How is it made? 3. What service will it give? 4. What care will it require? 5. Who makes or sells it?

7. Buy new basic garments and accessories families. We mean accessories that go together in color, texture and type. Hats, scarfs, jewellery, gloves, purses, shoes — all in harmony like the best of families.

Jewellery as well as garments expresses a functional or a dress-up quality and should always be appropriate for each occasion.

A Planned Wardrobe
The last thought — a well dressed woman who believes in herself, creates an ensemble effect, wears her clothes with conviction and then forgets what she has on.

DISTRICT NEWS

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Flinn arrived on campus this past weekend. They will be living in the apartment to the faculty apartments. They have been working in Banff during the summer, and will find themselves very busy making up assignments for the next several days.

Miss Grayce Eby arrived at home this past week. She is continuing her work at Red Deer, and we are sure she has the best wishes of all her friends as she attempts to pick up the work even while the fractures on her face are healing.

Mr. Duane Beals of Michigan, also arrived on campus this week. He is taking some work here so that he will be able to graduate next year from Bethel College in Mishawak, Indiana. Bethel College is the United Missionary Laboratory Art College and several of our graduates are taking work there this year.

Word has been received by Mrs. D. M. Taylor of the passing of her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Fulk of Victoria, B.C. Mrs. Fulk has been in ill health for some years. She was the former Maggie Pinlay, veteran missionary to Nigeria, Africa. Our sympathy is extended to all the relatives in this community.

This week the Fall Convention will begin. Rev. Haarer will be the speaker. The college and the church unite in this evangelistic effort each year. All the people of the community are invited to attend.

Miss Opal DeWitt of Edmonton, registered as first year student about a week ago.

Friends of the college will be interested to know that a new system of supervision has been instituted this year. Mr. Peter Waldin and Mr. Roger Moyer are Co-Deans this year, each one serving for half a week at a time. This is so because Mr. Waldin is unable to be on campus for the entire week. He arrives Tuesday morning and leaves Friday noon. Thus Mr. Moyer is in full charge of the young men during the time intervening.

Some brass instruments have been brought to light on campus and students playing them are busy these days practicing under the direction and supervision of the director of the music department, Mr. Moyer. One of the apartments has been opened for practice purposes. The school is in real need of another piano. Perhaps some one knows of an instrument that would be available for use, or that some one would like to donate to the cause of music here.

Rev. William D. Annett was chapel speaker in the college last Tuesday. No doubt he will be taking chapel one day each month.

CARSTAIRS PLAN CALF AND FEEDER SALE

The Carstairs Rodeo Association plan to hold a calf and feeder sale at the rodeo grounds the end of the month if sufficient stock can be secured to make a sale possible. Anyone interested in putting animals in the sale should contact either Bob Nunn or W. Rieder as early as possible.

LIGHT YOUR WAY . . .

... WITH BIBLE STUDY
"Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today." I'm sure that everyone who reads this column has heard and knows this old proverb. All of nature follows this proverb. The stars in the heavens are regular, the sun in the sky is never a second late, the birds of the air know when it is time to go south.

There is only one creature in all God's creation that so often wastes time and frequently puts off until tomorrow what actually should be done today. That creature is man. Actually, he doesn't do this in the area of physical or material realm. When a dollar is to be gained or an advantage to be gotten or a good time to be had, he is usually right on time.

However, in spiritual matters it is a different story. Man likes to procrastinate. He knows he ought to consecrate himself unto the Lord, he knows he ought to pray more, he knows he ought to read the Bible often, he knows he ought to be more faithful in church attendance, he knows he ought to be a loving father and husband, but he puts it off. Tomorrow!

As Paul stood before Felix in days of old and proclaimed the message of God's grace and love, Felix became tired of it and said: "Go this way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee." Today, we have many such people. "Wait till I get older!" says one. Another says: "I'll come around one of these days." But, seemingly people never get older, and "one of these days" never seems to materialize.

Therefore, listen to the words of Hebrews: "Exhort one another daily, while it is called today, lest any of you be hardened through deceitfulness of sin. . . . Today if ye will hear His voice, harden not your hearts."

JUST ANOTHER CHUCKLE . . .
Then there was the woman who was giving evidence in a traffic court. "I was driving down Main street with my husband at the wheel."

Maybe there was a time when patients could afford to mark 2 months off the calendar to nurse pneumonia; fritter away fortnight or more on an ailing appendix; endlessly coddle a stubborn infection. But not now. We value our living time — want to get well in a hurry. And, fortunately modern medicine is here to help. Your physician prescribes a product undreamed of a few years ago — and soon you're on the road to recovery.

WEST NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Mr. and Mrs. R. Befus were in Edmonton during the Thanksgiving weekend.

Congratulations to Miss Vera Befus, who has just completed her nurse's training at the General hospital in Calgary.

The Elton Willing Workers held their October meeting at the home of Mrs. Glen Evans. A large comforter was quilted for one of the members and arrangements were made for the chicken supper to be held in the school on Friday, Nov. 6th.

As most of the windows have been broken out of the school it was decided to repair them with plywood for the present and the members will do a clean-up job on Tuesday, November 3rd.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lee Evans, when a comforter will be made for the Red Cross.

Mrs. H. Hasegood held "open house" in honor of Mrs. Audrey Troyance of Lethbridge and Mrs. Connie Wright of Garden City, Michigan, who were here to attend their mother's funeral.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. A. Robertson and family on winning a Master Farmer award.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lewis and family visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lowrie on Sunday.
